11-13-15) Court date Ottawa court house I was found in contempt of court. Judge said I can purge myself of contempt by following the visitation order of 4-24-14 Joint Parenting Agreement. The JPA states: The father shall have visitation every thursday from 10 am - 6 pm and every other weekend from thursday at 10 am to sunday at 6 pm. It also says custodial parent must also allow non custodial parent first right to serve as babysitter when they are not able to be present with the child during their time with child. LINE 5.13 of JPA 4-24-14

(11-15-15) Sunday (first visitation day since court)

Kevin's visitation time happened from approx. 11:00am - 7:15 pm. We met at Peru police station, Kevin picked her up at 11 am, we met back up at police station where he returned Madeline to me at 7:15 pm.

Symptoms:

1. When Madeline got home she was crying and saying it hurt when she'd go to the bathroom #1 in diaper and potty.
2. She would stand up and stop peeing and say ow ow ow while grabbing at her privates.

(11-16-15) Monday (Day after visitation)

Child is in mother's care entirety of this day.

Symptoms:

1. Madeline was crying and appeared in pain when she would go potty. She'd stand up in the middle of peeing and say ow ow ow while grabbing at her privates and standing with her legs spread far apart.

(11-18-15) Wednesday Kevin texted me that Wednesdays are his busiest days at Music Suite 408 teaching music lessons. He stated he works eight hours on Wednesday alone. He pays a relatively small studio fee. He charges 30$ an hour.

He is saying Yes, but minus studio fee.

Kevin also texted me that "On the weekend where she is scheduled to be with him Thursday Friday Saturday and Sunday, that she can stay the night in her room at my house, and he will have time every day to be a dad to his child." Because he doesn't have a room for her at his house.

(11-19-15) Thursday [visitation day] Kevin had visitation. Approximately 10:30 am - 3:30 pm. Pick up and drop off at Peru Police station. He had had to work this evening. (not sure if a show)

(11-20-15) Friday [visitation day] Kevin visitation. He picked up Maddy 10 am at the Peru Police Station. He told me he was going to return her to me at approx. 5 pm at the Peru police department and that because he had to work that evening. I went about my day expecting him to follow his word and plans we made. A few hours later, he called me to tell me that he was going to keep Madeline from me all weekend even when he had to work, and that he was going to leave Madeline at his mom's house and that he was doing this as a way to punish me, to get back at me because I deserved this. I felt as though he intentionally hurt me. This also hurts the child. He went back on our plans for her to stay over nights at my house, and plans to return her to me at night when Kevin had shows/work. He had expressed his work schedule this evening was set for 5 pm into the evening, and the next morning 10 - approx 2:30 pm. instead of returning Maddy to me like we had made plans, he left her instead at his mothers house, Madeline with out either parent to supervise.

Kevin indicated he rescinded the agreement to provide the child to sleep at her mother's home because he had been contacted by DCFS that day, unbeknownst to me.

(11-21-15) Saturday [visitation day] Kevin was supposed to leave Maddy with me until he got done working, he went against the plans he made with me and left Madeline to be with both her parents, keeping her from me while i was available to babysit while he busy at work for approx 6 hours.

(11-22-15) Sunday [visitation day] 6pm- Kevin and I met at the peru police station for Madeline return. She was crying alot because Kevin said she didnt take a nap. (he doesnt give her naps usually). After four days of being away from mommy and getting cozy at another residence, the tired baby was not happy or rested for the adjustment and she was crabby about it. I brought her back to my house and sat her down to eat some dinner in her high chair. Symptoms:

1. She started telling me that she took a shower with Daddy.
 2. She ate dinner and I was going to give her a nightly bath, and bed time routine started. She acted terrified of taking a bath, screaming and crying "no" when I suggested the bath. Normally she is excited to and likes bath time but she made up excuses why she didnt want to and ran off pretending to be busy doing something else and said no bath, i am doing this.
 3. After pjs and diaper change I noticed she had some strange white substance on her genitals and a bruise on her buttox. The white substance was of nothing I had ever seen before on her genitals.
- At bedtime she refused and avoided laying down in bed just like she did the bath, cried no, and avoided it and went off doing something else saying no bed, and acting busy doing something else (avoidance). I just told Madeline that she was safe here.

11-23-15) Monday In the morning time, Madeline was still expressing fears to bathe just like the previous night. She was dead set on not taking a bath so I didnt force her, and decided a maybe by night time she would be less scared. But at night, she still refused, and would run and hide and avoid all together. I was curious why she acted suddenly terrified of a usual bath. That night I was persistent that she needed a bath so I was trying to tell her that she really needed a bath and talk her in to taking one. Still, she cried no fearfully. While trying to explain to her that she really needed a bath, she was sitting down in her room and I asked her (and these were the words of our conversation exactly)

MOM: Are you scared to take a bath?

MADDY: Yes

MOM: Why, Honey, Did something happen when you took a bath at Daddys

MADDY: Yes

MOM: Did he hurt you?

MADDY: Yes

MOM: What happened?

MADDY: (while moving hand to touch her crotch) He touched my crotch

Concerned I notified Police and began to grow suspicious of that white substane she had. I contacted Edwards hospital and they said not to bathe her because it would contaminate or eliminate any possible evidence of DNA sexual abuse. They wanted me to bring her that night but was too late, I decided to sleep on it and take her in the morning if i wanted to follow through with taking her there. Later after getting her laid down and ready for bed she was pointing to her mouth and saying daddy hurt her mouth and poking her finger in and out of her mouth and then saying her mouth hurt.

also made a call to dcfs to try to get advice on what steps I should take because I didnt want to take her to the hospital and be made to look like the bad guy. Edwards did insist I bring her though (see recording they approved of my recording the phone call)

(11-24-15) Tuesday Madeline continuing to express pain while using the big girl potty this morning. Grabbing her crotch saying owie etc. Because of this and last night's occurrence, I decided to take her to Edwards hospital in Naperville il. She saw Doctor Craig . They suggested a rape kit to collect swabs but denied it because I thought it had been too long from the time i got her back till then, to collect specimens, plus due to my experience in the past when she did show immediate symptoms, it still being a difficult situation. I thought itd be too invasive. He said even if she shows no physical symptoms that doesnt mean sexual abuse didnt happen. He said that little girls can bounce back from full on rape in 5 days and show absolutey no physical symptoms whatsoever. He reffered me to clinical child psychologist

(11-26-15) Thursday [visitation day] Thanks giving Visitation. They picked her up at my house at 10:30 am Kevin was with Maddy all day and available to care for her. But he didn't - as visible by her noticable diaper rash and unusual gunky substance on her genitals when I got her back from him that evening. Before she went she was clean and healthy and happy. [Before visitation]

He brough her back to me at my house around 8:30 pm. She was only with him for a ten hour period. Upon changing her diaper after she was returned to me that evening, I saw her genitals were very red, swollen, rubbed raw. Unknown what it was exactly because in my experience its difficult for her to get that bad of a diaper rash unless she was neglected and no one was chaning her diaper all day. Or perhaps it was caused by other means. I was not there. I do not know. There was also an unusual gunk with a fishy scent present on her unlike anything ive ever noticed from creams, wipes or the smell of urine. It smelled very strange. I took her to Edwards hospital in Naperville to have her examined and symptoms documented, They wanted to run a rape kit on her. I want to help Madeline but also dont want to hurt her. This is something thats conitnuously going on where she comes back from her dad like this, which concerns me and part of the reason I denied him visitation in the past, wherin which these symptoms subsided. At the hospital Maddy slept. 3.5 hours passed by the time she was finally examined, although the nurses really felt the need to run a rape kit to test the gunk on her for dna/ run special tests to evaluate more forensic evidence of sexual abuse. Her her symptoms had severely disappated as she had peed and it has cleaned up alot of that gunk. They reccomend next time she shows these symptoms upon arrival to allow them to run rape kit to test for specimins and better help get to the bottom of things. Another one of her symptoms after returning, she had a strange perfect cut/ incision on her pointer finger.

At some point in time I asked kevin about the diaper rash He said three different stories regarding it.

- 1- He said she came to him like that, which is a total lie.
- 2- He changed his story to , "shes a baby, babies get diaper rashes."
- 3-The next day he changed his story to "She got the diaper rash from running around in her diaper and it rubbing on her." Which is not true.

(see my evidence of videos of her running in her diaper, never had she got these symptoms from that.) so he cant try to tell me that.

(11-27-15) Friday [visitation day]{after visitaton day 1} (after strong suspicious physical evidence present)

Maddy woke up, I started getting her ready for going back on visitation with her dad and was going to give her a bath. After rising, she immediately vomited in her hands and on the floor. So stood her over toilet in bathroom to puke rest of way before continuing to get ready to go back with her dad.

(Shirt off because I was going to bathe her)

Not the same happy healthy baby after visitation as she was before visitation. Despite these symptoms occuring after shes with her dad, and me not liking it and it being unhealthy for her, I still have to send her back to the source of this.

Outside the police station , talking to Kevin, I asked him to please take good care of her said that she shouldnt come back with a diaper rash after one day of being with him like the night prior. He asked what kind of cream she used and I told him that he should not let her go without changing or get so bad to where she needs cream. Told him its called rash prevention by changing her frequently enough, she wont get a rash and shouldnt need cream. She never gets rashes with me. I dont know know if diaper negelct is the real cause of her diaper rash. But from one day of her being with him where he was present and able to care for the child there should be no excuse for neglect in caring for her or not changing her diaper enough so that gets gets a really bad diaper rash. If he was there and not caring for her properly, that is a type of abuse/neglect.

6 pm- we met at peru Police station for return of the minor child. Kevin asked to speak with me outside the police station and I told him to tell me what he had to say in the station. This is when he gave me the third story change on how she got the diaper rash when she was with him. Told me she got it from running around in her diaper and it rubbing on her. As I stated earlier.

I got her home and again , checked to see if she needed changed and noticed that funky, foul smelling gunky substance on her genital area same as the night prior.

I tried feeding her some dinner but she started vomiting right away and could not keep her food down. I was concerned by this behavior following her physical symptoms. and like Edwards had told me if I saw this again to get rape kit done for collection of specimens, so I took her to IVCH and the doctor there said they dont handle infant sexual abuse investigation and he refused to do any swabs or rape kits on her and told me that I would have to go to edwards or a bigger hosital if I wanted her seen for this matter. I asked him to write a statement note that they do not handle these types of things there as many agencies like DCFS and POLICE were under the impression that they would. He refused to write me a note about this information though. He seemed to think by doing so it would be considered refusing medical treatment and that seemed to be the reason why he didnt want to write a note. He said they they could examine her but he would not get involved and probably send us home so it would be pointless. I was too tired to go to Edwards and really didn't want to drag her out so went home and I tried getting Maddy to sleep. Maddy was out of it and started getting more sick as the night progressed. Her eyes were staring off in the distance and she seemed totally out of it. She began gagging while gazing off into space and vomiting and choking on her own puke. She continued to do this in her sleep and seemed weak and could not sit up or roll over and I stayed awake helping her making sure she didnt choke on her vomit but sitting her up or rolling her over and cleaning up vomit. Her eyes looks as it she was on something and she acted as if she was drugged or maybe beginnings of being sick. She acted this way when I first got her back from her dad this evening. At the police station she ran up to me and said hold me mommy hold me and wouldnt even look at her dad. Later this night she couldnt focus and wouldnt look at me or respond to me all evening, she was gazing ff into space totally out of it not talking like her usual self or doing things she normally does just, still out of it, and only things she would say were in the forms of moaning and grunting.

[in these pics shes up throughout the night gagging and puking multiple times]

(11-28-15) Saturday [post visitation] The next morning her misery grew as she puked and screamed in pain of her head hurting. She curled up in my lap in a sad fetal position and lay still and limp while crying and emotionless. She crying in pain, acting depressed, out of it, staring off, and not communicating or doing things shed normally do had she not gone on unsupervised visitation. I took her to Edwards and they just documented her fever and vomiting. She cried in misery all night long and was not her normal self at all. She was a totally mess and it was very sad for me to watch her be like this when she has never been sick before unless first going with her dad. its been a documented pattern of sickness and similar vomiting, nightmares, depression, regressive behavior, decrease in her normal activities and speech progess, she would suck her thumb, throw tantrums, cry for days, puke, lay on ground and cry and not want to participate in educational fun activities like painting, drawing reading, sitting down and doing these things. Instead shed throw the items and cry and throw her self on the ground and sob.

She wanted a popcicle, i thought would help make her feel better.

[Picture in the past of her coming home from visitation with her dad sick with high fever in the past had to take her to hospital, had 101.]

Proof she has shown these symptoms upon returning from visitation in the past when I had not taken her to the hospital. Hospital is not the cause. These sick symptoms are the reasons why I took it upon myself to deny Kevin visitation because Maddy didn't deserve this and kept coming back sick after being with him. It didn't seem sensible to keep continuing this.

(saturday evening) [post visitation] (not her normal self)

(11-29-15) Sunday [two days post visitation] We had brunch at Starved Rock and Madeline was poorly behaved, not herself, she was throwing tantrums and crying and throwing huge fits, also she was inconsolable which not like her. I kept working with her which took a lot of me as she is usually totally fine and happy and we don't have these problems maybe I should have kept her at home, but why should she suffer health wise and us not be able to go about leading normal lives because she is coming home sick after being with her father. Pictures of later feeling a bit better and smiling and talking a little more.

(11-30-15) Monday Still behavior changes in her, throwing tantrums and out of it but not as bad, negative symptoms are starting to disappear and she's smiling and talking better now, getting back to her normal self.

(12-03-15) Thursday

9:00 am visit from DCFS Lisa (last name) She states they [DCFS] got a call from Edwards Hospital in Naperville Illinois, on Tuesday 11-24-15. She says they called to make a report of sexual abuse. (The E.R. doctor at this time was (Craig - Last Name). Lisa told me that the person at DCFS who received this call, twisted the report around and made it a report about me, saying I had Munchausen syndrome. Lisa said it had something to do with the fact that there was already a pending investigation (which nothing had yet been done, and visitation and symptoms were continuing). Because of this, Lisa said she called her higher up, higher than the manager in Ottawa IL DCFS office, and spoke to him (she didn't give a name) about the matter. She and him agreed what they did was wrong to make it about me having Munchausen and had the report thrown out. They discussed how I should have an active case worker and to make sure I had one soon and to go ahead and make this an open investigation. Lisa expressed her sympathy toward me how I've been having a hard time with DCFS and the whole situation and that I have been going through a lot. She asked me if I wanted a male or female case worker, and told me she would work on getting me one but she had to come see if I was okay with this. She was not the case worker, I guess she was a sort of middle man. She ran a safety check list but we didn't talk much about the matters at hand, she told me I would talk about everything with the case worker once they get assigned. Maddy was present and we were eating breakfast when Lisa showed up and I was in the middle of getting Maddy ready to go with her dad for his Thursday visitation.

10 am Kevin picked up Maddy for visitation at my house 2830 4th st. #13 Peru IL 61354 He said he worked and he would leave Maddy at his parents, but would return Madeline to me at 7:30 pm.

Thursday [visitation day] 10:00 am Kevin picked up Madeline outside my house. 7:40 pm Kevin returned Madeline. She was throwing temper tantrums, squeezing her diaper to press on her crotch and humping motions by crossing her legs a lot [sexual behavior] the only time she does this is after she's been with her dad. I asked her to stop and she said no thank you, and tried to cover up with the blanket and hide that she was doing this. When it was time to brush her teeth and get ready for bed she refused and was being disobedient. I asked her 20 plus times to brush her teeth at the sink and normally she would brush them right way but tonight she refused and I had to brush her teeth for her.

Friday [visitation day] Kevin Picked her up approx. 10 am at my house. Returned her to me PM Approx. 9:30. He had left Madeline alone with out me or him at his parents house even though he agreed he understood that I offered to watch her when he needed a sitter.

I drew up a document for us both to sign on days he had to work on his visitation and I would be available to baby sit. He verbally agreed see recording , but refused to sign the papers. and Later refused to let me watch her when he was busy. When she returned that evening, Madeline was abusing the cat as soon as she walked in the door. Kevin dropped her off and he was avoiding him when he was trying to say goodbye or give her a kiss, she was aning away from him and saying no. like she didnt want him to be close to her. Kevin stated thats how she was sometimes. She was continuously punching and kicking the cat literally beating it up which is not a common behavior for her. she was also stomping on it tail, just being so aggressive to it. she was also super hungry and eating non stop. I dont think her dad is feeding her right. But later when I changed her diaper I noticed swelling and widening of the vaginal opeing. to me, knowing what she looks like on a regular basis it looked as if something had been inside her there was a noticable difference in her vaginal area. But it was extreemly to late and I didnt want to take her to the hospital because as the doctors say sometimes there arent enough symptoms to proves sexual abuse. and the way I see it if its going on eventually she will show enough symptoms. (more symptoms).

Saturday [visitation day] Kevin Picked her up approx 10 am at my house. He stated he got a bed for Madeline and Made a little area for her at his house so he was going to have her stay the night at his house. He sent me a pic of this bed and it was like a folded up blanket or thin mattress on the floor and right next to his bed, not her own area, I dont know if that even matters. (It used to bother me but no one else seems to care as much as I do) He told me he was going to be with her all evening besides when he had to do a show sround 5 pm. He denied me rights to baby sit then too, when i was available and I had offered. He said his parents had taken her and she fell asleep in the car and slept the whole time while at their house. Kevin then took her to his house, they stayed the night there. as far as I know.

Sunday [visitation day] Kevin had told me he was going to chicago this date and was bringing her back early. But he changed plans and said he was going to keep her. I was unsure if he went thorough with his chicago plans and left her with his family or not. But he had told me a week prior he was busy this date and had to go to chicago. I talked to him a little about how i was concerned she was coming back hungry and sent him some links to explain infant health and nutrition. He only gives her water when shes with him and i explained milk needs to be used for calcium of bone growth and as food supplement bcause sometimes when she deosnt eat alot, she needs milk to compemsate. and water has no calories or nutritional value. she needs calories as energy amd nutrients if hes only giving her water, perhaps thats why she is getting sick with him becayse she is operating on no valories or energy and she is just being drained and therfore getting sick. Kevin in my experience is an anorexic. he sometimes before a show will go all day with drinking one tea, and one beer. (starving himself) He wil literally starve himself. Since he doesnt know how to fee dhimself nor does he eat like a noraml person, I believe he is not able to feed her properly. He is not the type to have three sit down meals. He will go without. She needs him to feed her more, maybe if he ate and fed himself noraml, she could eat with him, But perhaps his diet style is not the best for her I would like him to take some child nutrition classes so he can better understand what she needs.

This evening when she got back, she seemed totally fine. I am noticing this time, when she was sleeping at his parents, she wasnt really interacting with them and the rest of the time he was with her. I think the variable in this case for vaginal symptoms are from his paretns. he is not present nor would he make a big fuss if he noticed anything because him and his family are the type who will ie and make excuses for eachotehr weven wehn they know eachother has done something wrong. they can do no wrong snad they will deny such and lie and say oh they would never do anything. even keins mom when kevin was smoking pot shed say oh he would never do such a thing. They seriously lie for eachother. no truth or accountability in that family at all. Kevin had agreed wit me that his mom was too rough when wiping maddy before and he asked her to stop and sh ejust called him a pussy. he never informed me of this dispite my ocmplaints of maddys vaginal and behavioral symptoms untill i saw the bahavior from mary kramer myself and kevin agreed it was too rough for maddy. but never made sure it stoppeed s he had continued to leave madeline with her despite her refusal to stop this behavior of rough diaper changing wiping that bothered both me and kevin.

Again she came back with the same cut on her finer tip looks like a knife or blade slice, not a cat scratch like Kevin is saying.
